BACKGROUND OF THE SEMINAR

Nirmala Niketan, College of Home Science, stands for a socially relevant education that awakens the students’ sense of social responsibility to reach out and share their knowledge and skills with more vulnerable sections of society. Reaching the Unreached is a unique idea of reaching the underprivileged (marginalized) sections of the society for their total development

OBJECTIVES OF THE SEMINAR

- To create awareness and perception about different avenues of extension activities
- To create a platform for sharing of knowledge, ideas and trends relevant to action research for the unreached sections of the society.
- To share and contribute to the knowledge, capacity and the scope for multi-disciplinary research and extension.
- To develop suitable guidelines, strategies, recommendations and to help in the policy making for the unreached population of the society
