Nivedita Ranade, PhD

Senior Associate & Project Manager

Nivedita Ranade, Ph.D., has more than 9 years of professional experience in program evaluation, research design and measurement, data collection and analysis, dissemination, grant writing, and project management. She is skilled in providing technical assistance on evaluation, performance measurement, and continuous quality improvement. Her areas of program and policy expertise include child and family development in cultural contexts, early childhood and K-12 education, afterschool programs, and family risk and adversity—with an emphasis on evaluating home visiting programs.

Is Human Development The Line For Me?

Would you like to –

- ◉ Design an educational curriculum for children
- ◉ Plan creative teaching strategies to enhance learning
- ◉ Instruct parents regarding the developmental tasks of children and methods of disciplining them
- ◉ Administer psychological tests to identify developmental problems
- ◉ Conduct premarital courses to prepare couples for marriage
- ◉ Design / create developmentally appropriate toys, games, books and stories
- ◉ Conduct research on themes pertaining to Human Development
- ◉ Engage in preventive and developmental counselling

And Last But Not The Least....

Human Development has a
MAJOR ROLE to play in YOUR LIFE!

It not only makes you competent for the job market...but also makes you competent as a HUMAN BEING by promoting your own growth and development and that of your family and community.

ANY QUESTIONS???

THANK YOU
