As the name suggests Nirmala Niketan, which literally translates to a pure home, is a domicile for those who want the world to change for good!

Spending the last year with the CRM Dept has given me the ability to portray myself in the utmost decorum. College going days are unforgettable, after which almost everything goes topsy turvy.... If there is something which holds us together, it is these baby steps which strengthens our base and gives us the hope of moving forward, no matter what happens. I am glad my first steps into rollercoaster of life began with the CRM.

I dared start this entrepreneurial venture – Maimoon International that deals with essentials for Interior Design and Decoration, after a brief free lancing as a Interior Designer.

Will always be grateful to my mentors!

TYCRM has been a great year of my life. Every subject learnt has taught me plenty! I was happy and glad to have secured a seat in TYCRM, I got to study Interior Design. Research in Ergonomics was a crucial part of learning how to work and study in a group. I Thank my department whole heartedly for the rigorous and extensive work schedules. It has taught me how to handle life pressures.

Model making and AutoCAD classes helped me then and more so now in my design career as a professional.

Subject like Ergonomics, interior designing, CRM market have guided me in my entrepreneurial venture Alchemy Design Studio. It has taught me the most valuable lesson on costing – be it in delivering design or creating design products. TYCRM has taught me one more essential skill - how to deal with clients.

A BIG THANK YOU to The CRM Department and my dear faculty for helping and guiding me always!

My inspiration to join NNCHSc is my elder sister, also an alumni of NNCHSc. It was one of the best decisions of my life to be graduating from Nirmala Niketan, CRM. After the initial trouble, I bounced back with determination and went further to pursue a career as an Interior Designer. My teachers helped me realize my potential and ensured that I achieve my goals. With a practical approach, they sharpened my leadership skills, which has steered me to be a good leader. Their commitment and my dedication has helped me reach new heights. I am currently a Senior Designer with DWG Design, a very prestigious firm, as the Head of many Residential and Commercial Projects in major Indian cities. I got exposure to the outside world because of all my supreme experiences at CRM - NNCHSc, which include - Cultural Exchange Program to Belgium; Representation NN in inter-collegiate events, and many more. I have been privileged to have the support of such an amazing guidance system. They helped me hone my skills even after my graduation and till date I seek their guidance whenever needed. Ever grateful to the faculties for supporting me wholeheartedly.... I wouldn't have been what I am today if it weren't for them. Proud to be part of such an esteemed institution.

I joined The Oberoi's, Mumbai as a Hostess in the Food and Beverage dept. and I am currently working in two of their major restaurants named Vetro and Fenix. CRM has played a major part into moulding me and gave me enough confidence to join a totally different department which I never studied. This is exactly how versatile this department and its faculty is. The subjects that we learn really shape us to face any challenge kept in front of us. This is also what makes us NNites different from different colleges as well. Having to hear that most hospitality college graduates don't have the knowledge that I have makes me want to express my gratitude to our CRM teachers because they always made sure that we go above and beyond our syllabus and constantly keep learning. I would really recommend this department and college to any other girl because of how much I've learned. Thanks to each and everyone who helped me shape myself into this person that I absolutely love.

Where do I even begin, I came to NN in the intention of taking up Foods and Nutrition. But, as our lectures began in first year, CRM became my first choice....I knew CRM was for me. CRM helped me in my overall growth. It exposed me to various events, competitions and opportunities to become a better me. I must say it's because of CRM I have become more confident, structured and disciplined. There was a time I had stage fright, but thanks to CRM and my three mentors today I can stand and speak in front of a large audience. Participating in research events like 'Avishkar' and 'Urjita' exposed me to various people, different thought processes and how one thing can be looked at through various point of views.

I have completed 6 months of training at 'The Galaxy Cloud Kitchens Pvt Ltd' (which caters to Big Bazaar and Taj Birdy's) in the departments: Bakery, Confectionery, Hot kitchen and Chocolate. I have been selected at The Taj Palace for internship in the Bakery and Confectionery dept. As human beings, we grow up conditioned to believe that to live a successful life, one must nurture a certain ambition, a goal. For women, especially, the achievements must be greater at home and at work. When we think of independence, the pressure to organise our lives becomes a goal very hard to achieve.

At Nirmala Niketan, I enjoyed what I did at every step. I learnt skills that I never had imagined I would learn. Eventually, I discovered that I enjoyed communicating, being with people. In the CRM department, I discovered different ways in which I could work with the community; utilise what was available to bring the best at the table.

I then chose to study communications at St. Xavier's. Today, I can't help but write. I keep discovering what I need to write at every turning in my life. My message to you is, just enjoy and love what you do at every moment.

I have been in this organization from 9 years. Trust me when I joined, I was very naïve to this corporate world, but to sustain here for so long I needed patience, dedication & had to go extra mile to retain my clients. Working in an event co. is not a typical 9 to 5 job, it comes with its own pros & cons. But to mould the Cons into a pros is what I achieved only because of NNCHSc.

Nutrition was supposed to be my 1st preference (due to family pressure) my heart always wanted me to do CRM! I was extremely elated as my heart won over the pressure & I got admission in CRM department. From being an Introvert to Ambivert..... Coerced by my friends to be the CR of the class, was quite an exciting journey.

CRM helped me to become not only an Ebut also Confident, Bold and Sanguine. Each day was a learning in that last year which is still helping me achieve my goals & multitask. It also helps me juggle between my roles between Wife, Daughter-in-law & Mother successfully. CRM helps in HOLISTIC development of an individual.

CRM surely helped me a lot in grooming my personality, communication skills, presentation and many other traits. CRM is one field which will give you a lot of exposure to the outside world and the ground realities of those. Internships are very useful because it helps to give you some practical knowledge of how, when and what needs to be done in different situations which probably the theory wouldn't cover it all. Really glad and thankful that I chose CRM which actually helped me in molding my personality, presentation skills and the art of speaking.

Working with HR and TA Team in an Automation Company is truly an achievement!!!

After graduating with specialization in CRM, it was difficult to decide what I want to do as I had lots of options... CRM had not only taught us various subjects that made us versatile but also developed our personality. We knew our subjects thoroughly which gave us a broader spectrum not only to choose our career but also for making us independent, confident, perseverant, efficient in this constantly competing world. I had only one thing in mind, if you want to progress make use of any opportunity that comes your way.

With my present profile I take care of Tech and Non Tech interview processes, bulk hiring and logistics single handedly

Thank you is a very small expression for what you mentors have done. Each one of you have a contribution to what I am today and what I have achieved!*

- Let me talk about my journey, a very quick short story, CRM at NN college was not a specialization initially preferred by the students. But it all started changing after the influence of the past alumni and our teachers. Our teachers were our motivators and true guides, they were our Godmothers who taught us values, hard work, struggle and reality of world in that small classroom. Today I pursue a never to die attitude, believe in struggle is important because no career is cake walk for a human being , all because of NN and special thanks to CRM teachers.

Stay strong and stand strong to be a achiever!

Nirmala Niketan has helped me to turn my overall personality by giving it a 360 degree turnover..... from a totally introvert to being an absolute professional extrovert.

CRM has always been special and the subjects included gives complete knowledge about the working world. Getting live experience with the hotel industry was an added advantage. So today while people in office discuss their field I able to talk, discuss or even debate on any topic. I will always be thankful to Nirmala Niketan for helping me not only in my career but also into my personal growth.

*The CRM course work is interesting and very very relevant in the work world.... especially Internship , CRM market, various workshops have refined my thought process and skills. I have achieved a lot during and after my graduation. I feel so proud to share my journey .... I started my career by applying for the post of HR in Kotak Life Insurance immediately after the semester end exams. They rejected me because they employ only people who have completed their graduation and my results were yet to come. After I left from the office, they called me back again for interview purely on the basis of my resume. They were so much impressed with the CRM course and my achievements which was mentioned in the CV. I am very thankful to my three mentors for their continuous guidance.
