Report: -

Summit of School Principal on “Protecting students “At -Risk”- Promoting Psychological Safety in Schools” was a joint initiative of Institute of counsellor training research and consultancy (ICTRC) and Don Bosco High School, Matunga, Mumbai. Ms Dipika Surve from Junior college department participated in the program. The program aimed at helping the educational and teaching professionals in profiling the “at-risk” students in school and to promote psychological safety for them. It was very intellectually enriching session with the dynamic speaker Mr Keshav Singh and Mr Aditya Nair. The most appealing key ideas/points were “Every student matters, learning is a function of engagement, eradicating unconscious bias, building humorous and theater skills among teachers, providing additional learning support, building behavioural skills labs and seeking help is not a sign of weakness”.

Outcome:

The participants will be able to enhance emotional well-being and mental health among their students in the school. Can develop stronger relationships and a sense of connectedness within the school community. Participants can help in reducing the cases of bully, poor
